Ideas of how to reach your £121 target:

1 HOST A TOURNAMENT

What better way is there to add a bit of excitement to the weekend than with some healthy competition! Maybe Fifa is your thing? Or you're a quick-fingered Overwatch player? Whatever your game of choice is, this is a great opportunity to make connections with fellow gamers whilst raising vital funds to help end youth homelessness. Charge a donation to join the tournament (suggested £10) and try to organise a prize for the winner. If you're unsure of how to set up an online tournament, just get in touch and we can supply you with all of the information you need.

2 HOST A CHARITY LIVESTREAM

Get your Twitch fired up and livestream you playing your game of choice. Link this to your Just Giving account so that your followers can donate whilst they watch. Set targets and challenges for when donation goals are reached e.g. at £50 you'll do a dare or make your character wear a crazy outfit. If you've never hosted a charity livestream before, you can find out how to do so here.

3 HOST A BOARD GAMES NIGHT

Now that we've all completed Netflix and can't face yet another Zoom quiz, virtual board games are a great alternative. Play against friends or family whilst teaming up in groups or playing in a solo league. Ask everyone to donate to take part and organise a prize for the winner. If you've not tried online board games before there are loads available, many for free. For a guide on where and how to play read this article. If you're living with friends or family, why not organise a physical games night and raise sponsorship; you could play a different game every night!

4 GAME-SWAP

For those of you who consider yourself a bit of a game connoisseur, why not set up a 'game swap'; the gaming version of a book swap! If you've got a game that you think your friend would love then why not send it to them and they send one back in return. This could be scaled up for a gaming society or group, with every member sharing a suggestion. You could set up mini-challenges and competitions around this and ask people to donate to play.

*Please make sure to disinfect and clean any physical games that you are swapping with friends and family.

5 A GAMING COMMUNITY WITH HEART

Even if you aren't able to organise a tournament or livestream for this event, sharing it on your social channels and with your gaming tribe will make such a difference to the amount of money Gaming for Good can make for homeless young people.
